JUSTICESPEAKS

JUSTICE SPEAKS OF HUMANITY'S WORTH.

VISION

We exist to empower a generation of change agents to end sexual exploitation and see worldwide justice for the oppressed.

MISSION

Together, we are transforming culture's definition of human worth through prayer, prevention, outreach, and restoration.

HEARTBEAT

Justice Speaks believes that every human is afforded God-given rights to life and dignity. Countless millions around the world today are abused, exploited, trafficked, and oppressed without the ability to speak for themselves. They are the women and children caught in the sex trade and the sexualization of the porn industry. Justice Speaks is bringing the true justice of new life and hope across our women's and children's centers in Thailand and Nepal, as well as standing to see pornography defeated in our home of Los Angeles. It is our belief that every person can make a difference for justice. Raise your voice with us for justice.

It Began With One Woman's Voice.

In 2009, founder Sharon Ngai went to Thailand with a small team of four people. Here, she encountered God's heart over the issue of sex slavery first hand as she witnessed young girls being trafficked on the streets. After seeing what she saw in the sex tourism destinations of Bangkok and Pattaya, Justice Speaks was founded to be a voice for the voiceless. Her greatest passion in this fight is to fuel a generation in prayer to see human trafficking and all forms of exploitation end.

Since these simple and faithful beginnings, Justice Speaks has remained committed for over 10 years to end sexual exploitation and human trafficking domestically and internationally.

Justice Speaks around the world:

in THAILAND

Through our women & children's centers in the heart of the red light districts, we are reaching exploited women and at-risk children as a refuge of safety, spiritual transformation, and resources for restoration.

We also invite young women into our innovative scholarship program to receive education, equipping and training for a hope and bright future free of sex slavery. We are redefining cultural mindsets of slavery, exploitation, and healthy family for girls.

Reaching the most vulnerable, our Hugs Center offers a safe place for children to learn about God's love and their value, as well as English studies and an education to be equipped for their future.

Our team is reaching Nepal's most impoverished villages where young, vulnerable girls are trafficked into India's sex trade. Hundreds of children are now receiving education and hygienic care for the very first time.

in LA

We know that pornography fuels human trafficking, and 95% of pornography is produced in Los Angeles.

Based in Radiance International House of Prayer, we are pioneering the momentum to see the pornography industry come down through prayer, partnerships, and activism.

Our goal is to empower a generation to be a voice for justice and serve as a platform for voices of justice throughout the entertainment industry.
